

Hawai'i Relief Services

These organizations, along with many others, are providing resources and are on the ground providing support and aid.

Below are several highly rated charities providing disaster relief and recovery services.

You may choose to send money, or even digital gift cards for goods and life necessities from places like Amazon, Target and Costco.

The great need right now is for everything from diapers, water, non-perishable food, and clothes, to hygiene products, dog and cat food, bedding, toiletries and flip-flops.
